DETAILED ACTION

Double Patenting

1. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

2. Claims 1-3, 6, 9, 12-14, are rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-8 of copending Application No. 11/003210 in view of Meier et al. (US Publication 20040103282. This is a provisional double patenting rejection since the conflicting claims have not yet been patented.

Art Unit: 2617

The subject matter claimed in the instant application is disclosed in the referenced copending application and would be covered by any patent granted on that copending application since the referenced copending application and the instant application are claiming common subject matter, as follows: they both teach a method for enabling access points to support a handoff for at least one station in a wireless network including the access points for covering constant service areas and the station associated with the one of the access points (AP) for receiving communication service, generating Access point neighborhood graph. The application 11/00310 does not mention a method for acquiring security key, and performing a pre-authentication such that when the station attempts to roam to one of the neighbor APs, fast roaming is provided via security key. However, Meier teaches acquiring security key, and performing a pre-authentication such that when the station attempts to roam to one of the neighbor APs, fast roaming is provided via security key (83, 205, 240, 263, 265, 267, 307). Therefore, it would have been obvious to ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to combine the above teaching of Lee with Meier, in order to provide validating the request include but are not limited to verifying that the timestamp of the re-association request is within a configurable value, verifying the sequence number is greater than a previous value, sending to a query to a subnet context manager to validate the re-association request, wherein the access point (AP) receives a rekey request number and a base transient key from the subnet context manager.

Art Unit: 2617

Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because application 11003210 are more specified embodiment that the instant application. Once the applicant has received a patent for species or more specific embodiment, he is not en-title to a patent for a generic or broader invention, because the more specific "anticipates" the broader. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993).

Furthermore, there is no apparent reason why applicant would be prevented from presenting claims corresponding to those of the instant application in the other copending application. See In re Schneller, 397 F.2d 350, 158 USPQ 210 (CCPA 1968). See also MPEP § 804.

Allowable Subject Matter

3. Claims 4-5, 7-8, 10-11, 15, are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
